GREG BIBB

PRESIDENT & CEO

Greg Bibb enters his second season with the Dallas Wings, and first serving as the organization's president and chief executive officer. Bibb, who joined the team in November of 2015 as general manger, leads all business and basketball initiatives of the Club.

With an extensive background in sports, Bibb has been the guiding force for the Wings on-court initiatives, solidifying a talented and versatile roster as well as an experienced staff. His emphasis has been on forging roster flexibility through the acquisition of multiple first round draft picks while developing a young and athletic squad that plays an exciting brand of basketball.

Through the 2017 draft, Bibb was instrumental in constructing a five-player rookie class that included three top 10 selections. The presence of all five draft picks on the Wings 2017 opening night roster marked the first time since 2000 that at least five drafted rookies secured spots on a team's start-of-season roster.

In his first season as general manger, Bibb began to put his stamp on the team by engineering a multi-faceted trade with the Los Angeles Sparks that delivered guard Erin Phillips and a 2017 first round draft pick. The deal also brought the fifth pick in the 2016 WNBA Draft, which resulted in the selection of 2016 WNBA All-Rookie Aerial Powers. He then further enhanced the team’s 2017 draft position by adding another 2017 first round pick in a deal with the New York Liberty.

Bibb’s work did not focus exclusively on the draft, as he has signed All-WNBA guard Skylar Diggins to a mulit-year contract extension while securing WNBA All-Star forward Glory Johnson through the 2018 season. Bibb also brought continuity within the coaching staff by inking head coach Fred Williams to a multi-year agreement prior to the 2016 season.

Outside of the Wings organization, Bibb serves as the Chief Executive Officer of Capital Sports Ventures (CSV) and is on the company’s Board of Managers. Prior to launching CSV, Bibb served three years as the Executive Vice President of Business Operations for the Washington Wizards and five seasons as the Washington Mystics Chief Operating Officer. His responsibilities with both teams included overseeing numerous business functions for the organization, including marketing, communications, community relations, game operations, new media, video production, analytics and the camps and clinics program.

A 19-year veteran of the sports industry, Bibb joined the Mystics in 2007. Prior to his arrival in Washington, Bibb spent two years as the President of Hantz Group Sports & Entertainment where he was instrumental in the launch of the Detroit Ignition with the Major Indoor Soccer League (MISL). # DALLAS WINGS 2017 NOTEBOOK

PUNCH THAT TICKET

With win against the Sky this on 8/30, the Wings have punched their ticket into the 2017 WNBA playoffs, locking in the seventh seed behind Western Conference opponent, the Phoenix Mercury. It is the first playoff berth for the Wings franchise, since moving to Dallas.

PLAYOFFS HISTORY

The Wings enter the playoffs for the 10th time in franchise history. The first time the franchise earned a playoff berth was in 1999, in its second season as the Detroit Shock. Three years later the franchise would go on and win their first WNBA championship in team history, with two more to follow in 2006 and 2008. The most recent playoff run occurred in 2015, when the team was in Tulsa. This season is the first time the Wings enter the playoffs under the new name and new residency. They are also the first and only WNBA team to make the playoff in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

LAST PLAYOFF APPEARANCE

The last time the Wings franchise placed themselves in the playoffs was in 2015, as the Tulsa Shock. The team finished with an 18-16 record, finishing third in the western conference. Tulsa went on to meet up against the Phoenix Mercury, with the Mercury taking the first round series 2-0 in a best of three conference series.

BRAND NEW PLAYOFF TEAM

This year's Wings squad is quite new to the playoffs. Only three of the 12 have seen post season play. The players who have had sights in the post season are veterans Karima Christmas-Kelly, who won a championship in 2012. Courtney Paris has also been in playoffs with Atlanta and with this franchise when the team was named the Tulsa Shock. Theresa Plaisance has also had sights in post season action with this franchise in 2015. This year marks as Skylar Diggins-Smith's and Glory Johnson's first playoff berth in theri careers. The two were under the Tulsa Shock roster in 2015, but didn't see any minutes, with Diggins-Smith on the sidelines with an injury and Johnson preparing to give birth to now 18-month old twins Ava Simone and Solei Diem.

PLAYOFF GAMES & WINS

The Wings are 30-21 in all games played in post season play for the franchise, that date back to 1999, when the team was named the Detroit Shock. On the road the team is 11-12 and 12-5 in series wins. Under head coach Fred Williams, the franchise is seeing it's third playoff game and second time under Williams' helm. The last time the team marked a playoff berth was in 2015, while the team was in Tulsa. The team finished 3rd in the Western Conference and faced western conference opponent Phoenix, falling in the conference semis 0-2.

TRUTH IN SEEDING

This season marks as the 10th time the Wings franchise has locked themselves into a playoff spot. This is the first time the Wings will be part of the new playoff structure the WNBA formed last season. The Wings franchise always entered with a conference standing. In the 10 seasons the Wings have placed themselves in the playoffs in high ranks, that go as top as conference leaders.

ELIMINATION GAME

In elimination games, the Wings franchise has an outstanding record at 14-5. The largest margin of victory the franchise has recorded when facing eliministion was 24 points, when the Detroit Shock defeated the Connecticut Sun 79-55, to advance on to the 2006 WNBA Finals against Sacramento, and win their second championship in franchise history. In 2007 and 2008, the franchise found themselves in similiar situations in the conference championships taking the series to advance to the finals in both seasons, winning their third championship in 2008 over the San Antonio Stars and falling in 2007 to the Phoenix Mercury.

CHAMPIONSHIP EXPERIENCE

The Wings franchise has formed great championship experience, building up rosters in the early years to create a legacy. In it's 19 years of existence, the team has won three WNBA championships, and advanced to the finals five times as a franchise. Four coaches have taken the franchise to the playoffs, starting with Nancy Lieberman, who led the then Detroit Shock to the playoffs in its second season of existence. Currenty New York Liberty head coach Bill Laimbeer, came in five seasons later as a second year head coach for the team to take them to their first WNBA finals, where they defeated Los Angeles to win their first ever WNBA championship. Laimbeer would lead them again in 2006 and 2008. Under Rick Mahorn, the franchise played two series in the playoffs. This season marks as the second time current head coach Fred Williams has directed this franchise to a playoff berth. The first time was in 2015, Williams' second season and now this season.

WINGS MILESTONERS

Glory Johnson recorded a personal milestone recording her 1000th total rebound vs. Indiana on May 30. Coming into the season, she was 44 boards shy of the mark, and just eight walking into this past Tuesday's game. She is the second Wings player on the team that has recorded such a mark, along with Courtney Paris who has 1350, and is fifth in franchise history among rebound leaders.

Karima Christmas-Kelly and Skylar Diggins-Smith scored their 1500th WNBA point against San Antonio on May 25. It was the second time in league history a veteran duo reached the same multiple-of-500 career points milestone with more than 1000 career points in the same game. The last time this occurred was in August 9, 2011 (MIN at PHO) when MIN teammates Seimone Augustus and Lindsay Whalen both reached 3000 career point. It is also the first time in W history that two teammates with hyphenated last names reached the milestone in the same game.

Courtney Paris recorded her 4000th

She is just one double-double shy from tying the most consecutive double-double games in her career.

ROOKIE'S A RAVE

Allisha Gray has given the Wings one of the best performances in franchise history since 2014. This season, Gray averaged 13.0 points per game and remained in the top three for all rookie leaders all season. She smashed a career high of 21 points against Connecticut on 8/12. The first time was when Odyssey Sims was named Rookie of the Month in July and August of 2014.

THE FABULOUS FIVE

This season the Wings will begin their 2017 campaign with all five draft selections from this year's WNBA draft. The five picks are the first time in 17 years that a WNBA team will enter their season with five or more draftees. The last time this occurred was in 2000, when the Minnesota Lynx opened their campaign with six draft selections.

GAME 23 – DALLAS 84, INDIANA 82
July 25, 2017 – College Park Center

4th Quarter Surge Propels Wings to Victory over Fever

Arlington, TX – In the last quarter of tonight's matchup, the Wings soared high, as they defeated the Fever 84-82 to take the overall series 2-1 and record their 11th win in the season.

In the final minutes, Allisha Gray recorded 10 of her total 15 points to help lift the Wings. The team was down by as much as 13 in the fourth and pulled within four. At the halfway point of the quarter the Fever took an eight point lead, and looked like they were going to run with the game, until Skylar Diggins-Smith found an open shot behind the 3-point line to sink it and get the Wings going.

With 4:38 left in the game, Gray saw the Fever's Brianna January in her sights, taking the ball away, forcing Indiana to foul. At the line she sank both shots to put the Wings within three. She later found an open jump shot to put the team within two, which gave Glory Johnson a chance seconds later to rebound and tie the game 80 all. After a second tie in the quarter, Diggins-Smith found Gray for the open jump shot to put the Wings up for the final score 84-82, never allowing the Fever to score and keep them at bay.

Three Wings recorded double figures for the night. Diggins-Smith led the team in total points for the sixth straight game, recording 21. It also marked as the sixth straight game she had scored 20 points or more. Gray ended the night with 12 points, while Johnson came in scoring 11 points.

The Wings bench was hot tonight, scoring a total of 29 points. Aerial Powers made her grand debut to lead the bench in scoring with nine points, while Courtney Paris scored eight points, and led the team in total rebounds with 10.
